Why this routing?

- No direct Dhaka-Bangkok flight appears in the live data, so the cheapest and quickest option is a single-stop via Kuala Lumpur (Batik Air) plus a low-cost carrier for the KL-Bangkok leg.
- The Bangkok-Phuket sector is served many times a day by Thai AirAsia (≈ US $45-$60 one-way) – perfect for a budget itinerary.
- All legs are under 6 h of flying, keeping jet-lag to a minimum.

Note: The live flight API only supplies schedule data; ticket prices are not displayed. Use a fare-search engine (Skyscanner, Google Flights, or the airline's own website) to lock in the exact fare and to add any required baggage fees.
